

2 When

when my heart suddenly breaks and my soul begins to ache then I feel it's you who calls me back to that lonely track

full of wild forest flowers where you told me once that only love matters
no words were spoken
no true love broken
when you return to me
and carry me back
to that word full of love where only angels above dwell in the wild forest flowers that never fades
the memory of you
it was always you
